THE FUTURE

Anyway - What is the future?
It is a perilous venture,
That one cannot know,
Until time to do so.
Regardless of our power,
In the present hour,
A wish to know the future,
No one is that brave,
To face the shadowed cave,
Of a hollow future.
There is an absurdity
Of all this inquiry?
The future is not yet fulfilled.

There is no future looking glass,
Until an end comes to the past!!
It is not true, that the future
Depends entirely on the present?
And what is your present future?
IT depends on your past present.
Shape your tomorrow row,
Use every chance to learn and grow
Into a figure of the future!
If a good future is to be your goal.
YOU are the maker of the mold.

Poet: Linda Lou Kirkland

FOREWORD

We, the Seniors, of the class of 1965 will soon be leaving Gaston High. In all of our 12 years we have worked, played, and at times even STUDIED A LITTLE together.

We hope that all of the underclassmen will enjoy the new building. The new classrooms will be a part of their future. We, the Seniors, however, will have no new building for our future. Our futures shall be what we make them ourselves. We have worked for this future for 12 years.

We, the Rebel staff, hope that your future will contain fond and warm memories of Dear Ole Gaston High, its teachers, and your friends and classmates. May your future be fruitful.

A WAY TO REPAY

We graduates owe more than we can repay.
If only there was a way!
You teachers who gave your time,
You who developed our young minds.
We have been given a life's meaning,
To live knowing, and not guessing.
Will we waste all this knowledge and forget,
That we owe a tremendous debt.
To use our ability to adventure,
To make a better future.
This is the only way,
That we graduates can repay!
GOD speed us to our destiny,
And may it please eternity.

MOTTO
To be, rather than to seem to be.

FLOWER
Red Carnation

COLORS
Red and Gray

WE ARE LIKE SOLDIERS

We are like soldiers.
We sign up like soldiers,
Are treated like soldiers,
And we drill like soldiers.
But our decisions are our own.
We are soldiers, but individuals.
We obey our sergeants word.
And listen to the phrases,
That we are to cite back,
In which we fail so poorly.
But our teachers have patience.
We stand at attention for orders.
From our leader, the General.
We respect him in order to be respected.
It's the principal of the situation.
The teachers and principal
Are our combined commander, counselor, and friend.
If only we could realize the full value behind all this,
Before it is too late,
Before we graduate.
We are just young soldiers,
But they are war heroes.
Raging the war of giving education to green privates.
In the end, a soldier owes all he is,
Or ever will be,
To the General, Sergeants, and Drill
Camp,
By which we are taught to be a better
Civilian of the future.

HISTORY

On a warm, sunny morning in August, 1953, approximately sixty-five smiling children entered the first grade. Some of us were in Miss Nancy Joyner's room, while the others were in Mrs. Naomie Fulcher's room. In the first grade, we learned to read and to count.

In the second grade, we were again divided into two groups. Mrs. Dorothy Cross and Mrs. Lucille Barnes were our teachers. In the second grade, Jimmy Rook joined us, while Dorothy Manning, Kenny Parks, and Graham Quinn left us.

Miss Lillian Reid and Mrs. Ireni Autry guided us through the third grade. That year our class went to Rocky Mount on the train. Miss Reid and Mrs. Autry taught us to write. We lost Wayne Odom, Sara Lynch, and Jimmy Walker, whereas Linda Storey and Margaret Wheeler joined us. Linda Storey left at the end of this year.

As fourth graders, we had the honor of having Miss Dorothy Piland and Mrs. Inza Massey as our teachers. For our class trip, we went to the fish hatchery in Weldon. Margaret Wheeler, Sue Owens, Ann Allen, and Lynn Craig left our class in the fourth grade and Frank Harris joined us.

Mrs. Anne Jenkins taught most of us in the fifth grade. Miss Piland, however, had a few members of our class in her room. On November 16, 1957, George Wayne Lucas, a member of our class, died. In the spring of 1958, we went to Raleigh and toured the capitol. We lost Margeurite Thompson that year and Dorothy Manning rejoined us.

Mrs. Jennie Horton and Mrs. Elizabeth Cocke were our teachers in the sixth grade. For our class trip, we went to Jamestown and Williamsburg. Linda Storey and Sue Owens rejoined us in the sixth grade. Brenda Epps also joined our class that year. We lost Benny Mobley and Dorothy Manning that year.

Mr. Paul Wilson and Mrs. Sallie Taylor had the privilege of guiding us through the seventh grade. Domma Vaughan and Patsy Edwards joined our class in the seventh grade.

We had Mrs. Barbara Keever and Mr. James Danks for our eighth grade teachers. Jim Blakeney, Domma Vaughan and Sue Owens left us that year and Margaret Wheeler rejoined our class.

At last we are in high school. We quickly became accustomed to the high school routine. Mr. Keith Pittman was the girls' homeroom teacher and Mrs. Goldie Shaw was the boys' homeroom teacher. We joined all the clubs we could. Many of our class participated in the athletic programs, while others were on the Student Council, annual, and Gas-Light staffs. Our class went to Washington, D. C. and toured the Capitol building, the Washington Monument, and other interesting places.

As Sophomores, we had the pleasure of having Mrs. Lutie Bryant and Mr. Raymond Whitby as our homeroom teachers. Brenda Epps left our class at the end of the year.

When we were Juniors, we were together for the first time. Mrs. Hazel Dickins was our homeroom teacher for approximately three-fourths of the year. After Mrs. Dickins left, Mrs. Betty Godwin took her place. After a tremendous struggle, we finally raised enough money to go to New York. That year we lost Helen Moore and Patsy Edwards. Our new student was Linda Rowell.

Finally we are Seniors. Mrs. Frances Hoyle and Mrs. Willie Matthews are our homeroom teachers. Our new students this year are Faye Moore, Linwood Wright, Susan Treihart, and George Balmer. We are all looking forward to our final goal in May---Graduation.

PROPHECY

Another day is finally over, and I am at home with my family of three. My job as a bookkeeper occupies my spare time. As I pick up the newspaper, I turn immediately to the society pages, and much to my surprise I see the names of some of my classmates of '65. It certainly doesn't seem as if ten years have gone by.

The first items that catch my eye are pictures of Malvin Moseley, Gene Norton, and Frank Harris. They each joined different branches of the service: Air Force, Army, and Navy.

I also see that Jean Delbridge has just left on a voyage to Paris. As owner of Fifth Avenue Style Salon, she will attend a showing of the latest hair styles in Paris.

Here's an article headed: FIRST WOMAN PRESIDENT TURNS DOWN RENOMINATION. It seems that Linda Storey prefers the simple life.

I see that Susan Treihart has reached her final goal in life--marriage. Susan has taken a leave of absence from her teaching position at Gaston High.

The former Faye Moore and Marilyn Pittman, together with their husbands, left yesterday on a Mediterranean cruise.

Bonnie Baird, dental assistant in Richmond, is now at work trying to discover a new anesthetic.

Faye Pearson and Janice Jordan have just been placed in charge of the two new wards at Rex Hospital. Their special training as Army nurses really helped them in attaining these positions.

World-known interior decorator, Linda Kirkland, recently had the honor of redecorating the White House. She has now returned to her family.

The "Citizen of the Year" was chosen last week. Martha Bryant received this award as a result of her remarkable work as director of the orphanage in Gaston.

On the World of Sports and Entertainment page, I find a picture of a scene from the current film spectacular, "Break the Heart That Loves You". And what's this--Patsy Cooke and Benny Delbridge are the leading characters!

Famous television comedian, Timmy Carpenter, starts his fifth year in show business as he hosts a new comedy hour this fall.

It looks as if Linwood Wright has become even more famous than the Beatles. He will be appearing at Radio City Music Hall singing his latest hit, "Ring a Ding Ding".

Here's a picture of Joe Whitby holding the trophy he won in his first stock car race. Next to him is Raymond Porch who came in a close to second.

Danny Copeland and Wayne Tolbert both make football headlines when they each scored six touchdowns in the annual Greenbay Packers game.

On the page of Classified Ads I see that Linda Acree's new cookbook "2001 Ways to Prepare Delbridge Eggs" has been placed on sale in all the local book stores.

Frances Clements is following in her mother's footsteps. She has an ad in here announcing the opening of her new beauty shop.

The Coker and Edwards Riding Stables offer their services each weekday. Business manager, Greg Coker, predicts a good year according to Wayne Edwards, riding instructor.

Gracie Moody is offering swimming and skiing instructions this summer at the local beach. Gracie does this in her spare time as a model.

Gordon's Market, owned and operated by Gordon Moody, is featuring low prices on meat. He seems to have a profitable business.

And finally I turn back to the front page. The first names I see are those of Milton High and Cary Massey. They are renowned chemical engineers who are in town for a convention to plan the world's largest chemical plant.

Jimmy Rook, criminal lawyer, has just won his first case in a murder trial. Linda Rowell, his private secretary, reported that it was very exciting.

A cure to a once dreaded disease has been discovered by laboratory technician, Cindy Spence. The whole world owes her its thanks.

Under Special Notices I see that Stelle Daniel, trigonometry professor, is giving a lecture tonight at East Carolina College.

It appears as though each of my classmates made the headlines except Andy Crew. But he has gained fame and fortune as the editor of this newspaper, the most widely read in the U. S. A.

As I put the paper away I think about how happy I was to learn of the prosperity of each of my beloved classmates.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Seniors of 1965, being of feeble minds and rundown condition, do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament, through which we hope to justly distribute the following among our underclassmen.

ARTICLE I

To Gaston High School, we leave the new building.

ARTICLE II

To Mr. Pittman, we leave peace of mind.

ARTICLE III

To the faculty, we leave quieter halls.

ARTICLE IV

To Mrs. Hoyle and Mrs. Matthews, we leave our gratitude for being our advisors.

ARTICLE V

To the Juniors, we leave the hope of a successful New York trip.
To the Sophomores, we leave the hope of a successful Junior year.
To the Freshmen, we leave three more wonderful years of books, teachers, and worry.

ARTICLE VI

We, the Seniors, do now distribute our individual qualities:
Linda Acree leaves bus 19.
Bonnie Baird leaves her quiet ways to Joyce Colston.
George Balmer leaves nothing.
Linda Beale leaves 10 pounds of her weight to Debbie Dickens.
Martha Bryant leaves her ways to Nancy Acree.
Timmy Carpenter leaves his big mouth to Bubba Clements.
Frances Clements leaves her job as chief cheerleader to Joyce Colston.
Greg Coker leaves his ability to ride horses to Johnny Norris.
Patsy Cooke leaves her basketball jersey, number 11, to Faye Delbridge along with her five fouls per game.
Frank Harris leaves his ability to pitch to Lynn Cook.
Milton High leaves his A-Honor Roll to Alton Conner.
Janice Jordan leaves her name "Bull" to Barbara Storey.
Danny Copeland leaves his presidency of Student Council to anyone capable of handling it.
Andy Crew leaves his article for the newspaper.
Stella Daniel leaves a slightly pulled pigtail to Lucille Finch.
Jean Delbridge leaves her job as secretary of the Beta Club to anyone who can take shorthand.
Benny Delbridge leaves his ability to wiggle out of trouble to Buddy Wray.
Wayne Edwards leaves his cute laugh, and his polite ways with girls to anyone who has the talent he has got.
Linda Kirkland leaves her job of preparing the announcement sheet to anyone who will have it.
Cary Massey leaves his presidency of all his clubs to anyone fortunate enough to have them.
Gordan Moody leaves three periods of Shop to whoever needs them to graduate.
Faye Moore leaves her Senior year to Becky Spruill.
Malvin Moseley leaves his quiet ways to Earl Jordan.
Gene Norton leaves some meaness to Thomas Coker.
Faye Pearson leaves all the fun she has had in high school to her sisters.
Marilyn Pittman leaves her memories of New York to anyone stupid enough to want them.
Raymond Porch leaves his ability to get in trouble to Wayne True.
Jimmy Rook leaves his ability to make A's in history to Lynn Cook.
Linda Rowell leaves school to unfortunate students.
Cindy Spence leaves her best wishes to everyone.
Linda Storey leaves job on the newspaper staff to her sister, Barbara.
Wayne Tolbert leaves his place on the football team to Jimmy Tolbert.
Joe Whitby leaves some of his height to Chubby Thompson.
Linwood Wright, needing all he has, takes it with him.
Susan Triehart leaves a noiseless pencil to Randy Guthrie.
And I, Gracie Moody, leave my gossip column to anyone that likes gossip.

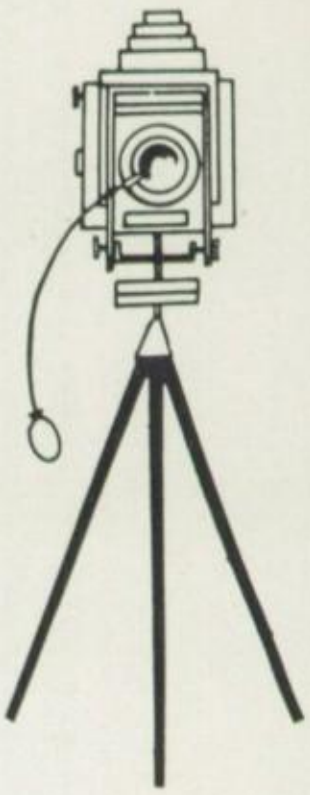
OUR NEW YORK TRIP



ADVERTISEMENTS

THE WOOD IN YOUR LIFE

Good schools for all are an American heritage. In classrooms all across the country the shape of tomorrow is being formed today. To provide wood to make pencils, paper, books, maps, photographic film, desks and classrooms for succeeding generations of school children, forest industries grow trees as a crop. Tree Farms spell permanence and prosperity.
